- Anti-American statements asserting that US policy and authority is illegitimate
- Aggression or threats toward coworkers
- Presence of unauthorized weapons
- Unfounded allegations of US persecution or prejudice against a minority group or religion
- Abnormal mood swings or depression, withdrawn behavior, decrease in hygiene, suicidal remarks, paranoia

Lone Wolf Terrorists

Insider Threat

MAJ Hasan “I’m going to do good work for God”

Seung-Hui Cho
“You had a hundred billion chances and ways to have avoided today.”

Lone Wolf Terrorists

- Can execute a terrorist attack singlehandedly
- May claim affiliation with a known terrorist organization (“terrorist cred”)
- Difficult to identify and track
- Requires greater vigilance on our part to prevent attacks

Active Shooter Awareness

Q: What is an “Active Shooter?”

A: An Active Shooter is someone actively engaged in killing or attempting to kill people in confined and/or populated areas, typically using firearms. Oftentimes these events evolve into hostage situations if the shooter has not either been neutralized or taken his own life. Active shooter incidents typically last about 15 minutes on average.

Active Shooter Preparation

You and your organization can be prepared in advance!

- Determine possible escape routes
- Identify two nearest exits in any facility you visit
- Practice lock-down procedures in your office/building
- Specific circumstances will dictate the specifics of your response
- Remember: there may be more than one shooter

Active shooter situations are unpredictable and can evolve quickly. Potential responses include, in order:

- Evacuate
 - Lock down
 - Take action against the active shooter
 - Cooperate with first responders

How do you “Lock down?”

- turn off all lights
 - close curtains/shades
 - cover window glass on doors if possible
 - secure doors and windows; block the door as best you can to slow down an intruder
 - turn off cell phones
 - use objects (furniture, equipment) to hide behind for cover and stay out of sight

Reporting the Incident

Dial 113!

Give location and incident details:

- building and/or room number
- number of people in building and/or room
- injuries – number and type
- number of shooters, type of guns (pistol, rifle, etc)
- if you cannot speak, leave the line open so police can hear

Terrorist Planning & Attack Cycle

- Phase I: Broad target selection
- Phase II: Intelligence gathering & target surveillance – where you can help us!
- Phase III: Specific target selection
- Phase IV: Pre-attack surveillance & planning
- Phase V: Rehearsals
- Phase VI: The attack
- Phase VII: Escape & exploitation

Terrorist Planning & Attack Cycle

Intelligence gathering & target surveillance

- Photography of target area and surrounding area
- “Boundary probing” – physical approaches to measure restrictions to access/reactions by security
- Surveillance of target
- Questioning about security practices and procedures
- Presence of an individual or group in a clearly marked restricted area

SURVEILLANCE IS THE VISIBLE HAND OF THE TERRORIST

This is the key phase of an attack plan where you can help prevent the attack from occurring!

Countermeasures for Prevention and Deterrence

- Random AT Measures (RAMs)*
- Surveillance Detection*
- An inquisitive nature*
- Analysis of threat information (based on your reporting)*
- Physical security measures (barriers, etc) implemented based on your reporting*

 - You have a role in all of these!

Random AT Measures (RAM)

- ❑ Random use of different force protection measures – changes the routine
- ❑ Increases YOUR threat awareness and impacts terrorists' planning efforts
- ❑ Increases effectiveness of security personnel by changing procedures
- ❑ Be a Team Player: cooperate with RAM's
- ❑ RAMs – a program that is in compliance with DoD standard 13, from DoD Instruction 2000.16 and is applicable to EVERYONE on this installation.

The Ft Dix. “Non-Incident”

A story of the importance of awareness and good security

Why Ft. Dix?

- Perpetrators videotaped perimeter of five bases
- Dover AFB was dropped from the list because it “was too difficult of a target because of its high security.” (Read: RAMs)
- Knew the area at Ft. Dix via employment delivering pizza
- Had copy of installation map

“Saw Something, Said Something”

- Terrorists filmed themselves firing automatic weapons and calling for jihad
- Asked Circuit City employee to transfer 8mm videotape to DVD
- “They looked like normal people”
- Brian Morganstern viewed the tape, and thought about whether to report it
- Finally he decided to report the incident to the FBI

“Saw Something, Said Something”

- The Circuit City employee:
 - Probably never completed AT Level I Training
 - His report alerted the FBI to the suspects, causing them to open a full investigation
- YOU can do the same thing here – we need your help!

Do you exhibit
AN OBVIOUS
ROUTINE?

Do You Make It Easy For Terrorists ?

Don't Make Yourself a Target

Blend in with your surroundings.

- Do not wear clothing or carry items that identify your DOD affiliation
 - Remain low key
 - Avoid places where Americans are known to congregate
- Reduce your vulnerability and exposure:
- Select places with security
 - Be unpredictable
 - Travel in a small group
 - Use automobiles and residences with adequate security features

DOD affiliation may identify you as a potential target

Hotel Security

Be sure you know how to handle:

- Reservations & Selection of Room
- Paging
- Room Keys
- Room Number
- Be Alert in Lobbies, Halls, Etc.
- Vary Arrivals, Departures, Exits and Entrances

Residential Security

- Make periodic checks using a checklist
- Lock doors, shutters, and windows
- Be observant for things out of the ordinary, like “tags” or “gypsy symbols”
- Consider installing motion lighting
- Know who’s coming to your house (e.g., repair personnel)
- Hide your valuables in unlikely areas!
- Don’t accept suspicious packages
- Consider installing an alarm system
- Request a survey from the Garrison AT Office
- Report suspicious incidents! S⁵I

Reduce risk by...

- using deadbolt locks on all doors
- locking shutters and windows
- installing good lighting (time- or motion-sensor) near entrances/windows
- making it look like no one's home (when they are)
- minimizing routines
- keeping in contact with neighbors
- reporting suspicious activity (persons loitering, etc)
